

‘Our helpers care, serve and protect’

The community helpers’ activity for the Junior K.G. was conducted on 7th February with great enthusiasm and joy. Our little children looked absolutely adorable as they came dressed as various community helpers such as doctors, firefighters, police officers, teachers, farmers, soldiers and many more. The colourful costumes and confident expressions truly brought the activity to life.

During the activity, children spoke a few lines about community helper they represented, sharing their roles and how they help people in our day-to-day lives. This helped enhance their speaking skills and boosted their confidence.

Through this activity, children learned the importance of community helpers and developed respect and gratitude for their selfless service to society.

We sincerely thank our dear parents for their wholehearted support and efforts in making this activity meaningful and memorable. It was indeed a delightful learning experience for our young learners.
